← Duck rescue

Harold Weisberg came home to his house on Old Receiver Road last week to find a mother duck and 11 ducklings had found their way into his inground swimming pool. Weisberg said that this is the second time in recent years that the ducks have gotten into the pool and were unable to get out due to the high wall. As he did last time, he and his wife Lillian set up a ramp and baited it to lure the ducklings out. (Photos by Richard T. Meagher)
